Boys Overseas Think War Will Soon Be Over

"I sure was glad to receive the cigarettes the Veterans sent," Pte. R. W. L. Sticklend writes in a letter of appreciation to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund. "I've seen a few of the boys from town and they don't like the country any more than I do. It's awfully warm over here and cooking around the stove makes it worse.

"As you know, I'm still dishing out food for the boys. I was in Rome for a while and I had a very good time. It seemed like Toronto. Thanks a million for the cigarettes. Well, I must close now as the show is just about to start."

"Another 300 cigarettes arrived from your society about a week ago," writes Sgt. Jack Teasdale. "I should have written sooner to thank you but have just been posted to this squadron and have not had very much time. The cigarettes are really appreciated and are much better than the English brand."

"Many thanks for the cigarettes I received last Wednesday," writes Sgmn. Fred Lusted. "Still here in Italy slugging away but it looks as if the war is in its final stages and before many months I think all the boys will be back in good old Canada."

"Things certainly are looking bright as concerns the war news," writes L.F. Wm. Druery. "Maybe I'll be able to thank you all personally pretty soon."

"I wish to take this opportunity to thank you very much for the cigarettes which I received

Household Buyers Hit By Acute Ice Shortage

An acute ice shortage this week is affecting about 350 Newmarket families. William J. Geer said that a Toronto manufacturer, who supplies Newmarket with ice, told Geer and Byers, local ice agents, that further deliveries are not likely to be made to Newmarket until the weather cools.

The demand for ice in Toronto has exhausted all reserves of the manufacturers and the daily output of their artificial ice is insufficient to meet even the Toronto demand. The shortage is due in part to the exhaustive requirements of war plants and railroad refrigerator cars.

"We have been told that until the manufacturers can cope with the Toronto demand," said Mr. Geer, "we will not receive further shipments.

"At the beginning of the summer we were assured of a full supply of ice for the entire season. We expected ice for the weekend, but were informed on Monday that we wouldn't get any more ice from Toronto until the heat-wave is over.

"Our suppliers there referred us to Belle Ewart as another source. At Belle Ewart natural ice is stored in sawdust, but we could only get ten tons a week there. The expense of the long haul from Belle Ewart makes that source unlikely, but there is a possibility that we may try it," continued Mr. Geer.

Deliveries of ice for domestic purposes in Newmarket, Mr. Geer said, had risen to between 25 and 30 tons a week. Commercial requirements here are met by refrigeration.

TREASURER CRITICIZES FINE-CUT TAX RATE

Water and Huron Sts. are county roads and are maintained by the county, Councillor Frank Bowser, chairman of the road and bridge committee, told Newmarket town council last week.

"Why then does the town pay for the wig-wags?" asked Councillor Wm. Dixon.

"Because we agreed to do so in order to get them," said N. L. Mathews, K.C., town clerk and solicitor.

Mr. Bowser told the council that necessary expenditures such as the new Niagara St. bridge and improvement of the Prospect St. sidewalk levels south of Gorham St. would mean the over-spending of his budget.

"Do what you have to do," he was told by the council.

"That is the trouble with cutting the mill rate down so fine," said Mr. Mathews. "When you have an unexpected expenditure there is no way to take care of it."

HAS TWO YOLKS TOO

A New Hampshire Red owned by Ross Trivett, Huron St., laid her first egg, and a double-yolked one at that, at the age of four months and three days.

Mr. Trivett said that this beat a record cited by Andy Clarke on "Neighborly News" on Sunday.

CHURCH FETES MUSICIAN, WIFE

Friday evening Trinity United church choir and representatives of the music committee gathered at the home of Mrs. Allan Cody to say a farewell to Iltyd Harris, organist and choir director of the church, and Mrs. Harris. Following an address which was read by W. R. Stephens, Rev. Henry Cotton spoke on behalf of the congregation and Sanford King presented Mr. Harris with a fine billfold containing $75.

Mrs. Cody presented the gift of the senior choir, a superb travelling bag. She was followed by Miss Joan Bovair, who presented Mrs. Harris with a beautiful silver tray, and Miss June Hill, who presented a fine bouquet of gladioli, both on behalf of the junior choir.

Rev. R. R. McMath, Robt. Brooks, Mr. King, Herbert Graham, Mrs. M. B. Seldon and Mrs. Alice Higson, all spoke, expressing their appreciation of different phases of Mr. Harris' work and speaking for different sections of those who had benefitted by it. Mr. Harris, followed by Mrs. Harris, thanked those assembled for the gifts and for the enjoyment they had experienced in their work in Newmarket.

Refreshments were served and following a fine solo by Miss June Hill, the gathering sang For They are Jolly Good Fellows.

The work of Mr. Harris has been of great benefit to the community, particularly his training of young voices, and he will be much missed, Mr. Stephens declared at the presentation.

Premier King Invited To Visit Army Hospital

Following published protests regarding the condition of Christie Street hospital, a letter was sent to Minister of Pensions and National Health over the signature of the Women's Committee for Action, headed by Dr. Minerva Reid. The letter, enclosing petitions signed by Toronto and district women, asked the minister, Ian Mackenzie, to visit the hospital and see for himself whether the objections to the hospital were justified.

The reply to the letter, termed by Dr. Reid as "most unsatisfactory," prompted the committee to appeal directly to the Prime Minister. A letter, enclosing additional signed petitions, was mailed Tuesday evening. In the letter, Mr. King was asked if he would visit the hospital and confirm the committee's objections to its use for wounded veterans of this and the last war.

The petition, which the women's committee sponsored and which has been in circulation for three weeks, urges the speeding up of the promised construction of a new military hospital at Sunnybrooke Park. The petition also criticizes the Christie Street hospital for its site and lack of facilities vital to the proper care of wounded men.

A copy of the petition is at The Era and Express office. To date, it has been signed by 26 persons. Names on petitions signed throughout the district number 11,000.

ROT THREATENS POTATO CROP

The agricultural office at Newmarket is making arrangements for the inspection of potato crops for a comparatively new disease called bacterial ring rot, W. M. Cockburn, agricultural representative, declared today.

"This bacterial disease of potatoes is very contagious and if adequate control measures are not taken by potato growers it may threaten the entire potato production program of the province," Mr. Cockburn warned.

"The inspection will be carried out without charge for an acre or more by the crops, seeds and weeds branch of the department of agriculture. Growers whose names are listed in the Newmarket office before Sept. 1 will be given first preference for inspection."

Canadian Bayonets Set Foe Running, Says Soldier

A veteran of five battles in the Normandy campaign, Lieut. William W. Niles, whose parents live at 64 Gorham St., wrote home recently: "My men are simply marvellous. No person can tell me that the Canadian hasn't plenty of intestinal fortitude."

Celebrating his second birthday overseas on Aug. 24, Lieut. Niles enlisted October, 1940, and a month later received his first stripe. He served as an instructor at Newmarket for two years and in November, 1942, entered the officers' training school at Three Rivers, Que., from which he graduated in March of the next year. He went overseas in July, 1943, and went to France a year later with the Scots regiment.

Of the fighting, he wrote home: "I have been acting as a company commander with two platoons under me and it has been quite a task. I have seen a number of German prisoners and their youth is amazing. Just kids in most cases. Never the less, they have proven brave fighters. They will not, however, meet our boys with the bayonet."

Victory Celebrations Forecast From Ottawa

In a Canadian Press story from Ottawa telling of the return of Prime Minister Mackenzie King to the capital, the following paragraph appears:

"Indications were that the government will soon invite the public across Canada to celebrate the liberation of France and the surrender of Roumania with demonstrations, flag displays and the ringing of bells."

SUCCESS STORY

Billy Armstrong, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Arleigh Armstrong, and Margaret Ann Crowder, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Crowder, went to the Lions club carnival on Wednesday evening with a dollar each to spend. The children arrived home with a chicken, a basket of peaches and 55 cents each.

In the classified ad. columns of The Era and Express, a pony, won at the Lions club carnival, is offered for sale.

A record sum of close to $3,000 was taken in by the Lions club during their two-day carnival last week, Frank Courtney, carnival committee chairman, said today.

"We won't know the exact amount until all bills are paid but it is safe to say that the carnival proceeds border the $3,000 mark," he said. Terming the carnival as the largest in the history of the Newmarket Lions club, Mr. Courtney declared that without the help of all who were connected with the carnival arrangements and their willing co-operation, it would have been impossible to have achieved that success.

"The carnival committee wishes to thank everyone, outside the Lions club, who so ably assisted us to put the carnival over as well as all those who so generously supported the carnival and dance," Mr. Courtney stated.

Proceeds of the carnival will be used to further Lions club projects which include community betterment, medical treatment for children and war work.

War Against Mosquito Is Described By Dr. Wesley

SCHOOL OPENS SEPT. 5

The Newmarket high school will re-open on Sept. 5, A. N. Belugin, chairman of the high school board, announced this week.

"Any students who have been employed at farm work and are still required on the farms may remain till the end of September and will be given special attention at that time to enable them to catch up with their studies," Mr. Belugin said.

Following a discussion at a town council meeting last week of the mosquitoes which abound on the west side of Newmarket, Dr. J. H. Wesley, M.O.H., gave The Era and Express the following information about mosquitoes:

"Although the mosquito is a winged insect, three of its four stages of life are aquatic. The egg is laid in some pool or stagnant water. In warm weather these hatch in about two days into larvae (wrigglers or wiggle-tails). In four or five days more those pass into the third stage—pupae. This stage lasts two or three days, when the full-grown mosquito emerges from the pupal shell.

"If conditions are favorable, that is, weather and food, the entire process may be as short as five to ten days. The length of life of the adult mosquito varies with the conditions. Without water they perish in four or five days, but under favorable circumstances they probably live several months.

"The mosquito seldom travels far of its own free will. Experiments indicate that inland mosquitoes seldom travel more than half a mile from their breeding place, and that the average flight is probably much less than this. They may, however, be blown considerable distances by strong winds.

"Mosquitoes in general, and particularly those which frequent houses, live about and breed in swamps, pools, marshes, stagnant waters, and all low wet places. In addition to these probably the greatest difficulty in their suppression rests in the tendency to breed about residences and in unnoticed spots. Some of the places commonly found about residences include the following: old tin cans, bottles, etc., containing water, rain-water barrels, non-mosquito proof cisterns, uncovered pools from washwater, or drips from pipes, pumps, etc., stopped-up roof gutters, stock watering troughs, etc.

"Drainage is undoubtedly one of the most reliable, permanent and best methods of mosquito control. In many places oiling or stocking with fish cannot be applied with success, and in these cases there is but one solution, namely, drainage.

"Oiling of water surfaces to prevent mosquito breeding is generally considered as supplementary to drainage or stocking with fish. As a temporary expedient it is not expensive, but over a term of years

He met an old school chum, Chas. Walinck, Roche's Point, who is also in France.

Local Midgets Beat Richmond Hill By 13-2

The local midget hardballers did it again, this time to the Richmond Hill youngsters, by a score of 13-2 on the local diamond on Tuesday evening, and are now waiting to hear whom they will play in the Ontario Midget semi-finals.

Every youngster on the local team played heads-up ball and to pick out a few stars would be unfair, as every player played his position like a veteran. Tommy Dales on the mound for the locals simply had too much "stuff" on the ball for the Richmond Hillers.

WESTWARD HO

At the station where we boarded the Canadian Pacific Railway's "Dominion" for the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association convention at Winnipeg, there was a group of R.A.F. boys who were being posted to an airfield in Alberta. They were busy making plans to visit New York on their next 48-hour leave. "We can hitch-hike down from Alberta," one said.

It is difficult for a stranger to realize the distances there are in Canada. Used to, at the most, a 24-hour train trip in the British Isles, the R.A.F. boys had a rude shock when after 38 hours on the train, they learned they were little more than half-way to their Alberta destination.

We were very much like those airmen. We knew Winnipeg was some 1,500 miles away but until we travelled that distance, we had no idea just how far 1,500 miles is. If we learned nothing else, we at least better understand the vast size of our country.

We found the part of the trip west from Chapleau the most exciting. Chapleau is some 200 miles west of Sudbury and is chiefly memorable for a ten-minute stop which enabled the more active passengers to race across the street to a lunch counter where they could buy box lunches to eat on the train. Painted across the front of the lnuch-room was the sign "Lugem-away." Most descriptive under the circumstances.

From Chapleau westward, the railway is never very far from Lake Superior. For several miles, the train wound along the shore on a road-bed cut of solid rock. On one side, masses of rock towered five and six hundred feet above the train. On the other sid-, there was a sheer drop to the water. Islands ranging from mere hummocks of rock with one or two trees to those covering a square mile line the north shore. Seen against the westering sun, they possess a wild grandeur matching that of the Rocky Mountains.

Despite the preponderance of rock, the country is heavily wooded, and many times the train passed the scene of logging operations or the site of a pulp mill. Boats are able to dock at some of the larger mills.

West from Keewatin, the land changes its character. There is less rock and trees and the country levels until the prairie begins some 50 miles east of Winnipeg. The most distinctive feature of that western landscape is the grain elevator. Square, box-like towers, they stand every 15 miles along the railway, each with its siding of loading freight cars.

Winnipeg grows out of the prairie like the foothills of a mountain range. It appears first as a shadowy mound, and then, gradually smoke-stacks and tall buildings are distinguishable and finally individual houses. There is no surprise in approaching Winnipeg. It grows bit by bit as the train races towards it.

For an easterner, Winnipeg has a breeziness, a youthful exuberance, quite foreign to the cities of the east. The streets are wide and straight for the most part. There is no dim-out as there is in the east. Neon lights flashed and glowed on the main streets and theatre lighting turned night to day.

But most of all, we remember the wind that continually blew. In downtown Winnipeg, we walked east and the wind was in our face. We turned a corner and still the wind was in our face. We completed the block, walking in all four directions, and still the wind was in our face.

To us, this was sufficient to mark Winnipeg as no ordinary city.

COMES THE REVELATION

News of vast import crossed our desk last week. From Hollywood, according to a soap company release, comes word that the strain of wartime living is leaving worry marks on the loveliest faces. Furthermore, says the soap company, worry makes wrinkles!

To tell the truth, we were simply bowled off our feet by this startling revelation. However, we recovered somewhat on learning that there are ways to avoid wrinkling. The soap company suggests the facial habits of movie stars be adopted. For instance, don't pull at your mouth or ear if embarrassed because it destroys poise and distorts the natural expression of the face. And when applying make-up, you should always look into the mirror with the face completely relaxed, not raising the eyebrows, pursing the mouth or straining cheek muscles.

We feel much better now that we know these things. We had thought the beautiful but as-expressionless-as-a-window-dummy faces of some stars indicated a lack of intelligence. Now we know it's just a case of never pulling their ears nor straining their cheek muscles.

THE COMMON ROUND

By Isabel Inglis Colville

SUMMER SOUNDS

Each season has its own sounds, but those of summer seem to me the most varied and beautiful.

Autumn sounds are sad—the rustle of falling leaves, the tuneless cry of the departing birds, and the weird moaning of the winds as they practise for their winter blasts.

Winter sounds are cold and austere—the singing moan of the telephone wires as the frost fingers strike them, the creaks and groans of protesting buildings as the same mischief-maker tickles them with icy glee, the ghostly rattle of the bare tree branches as the wind rushes through. The only gay sounds are the voices of children as they play in the snow or the rare music of sleigh bells.

Spring sounds are lovely but erratic—one day the wind's voice is that of a lover, wooing the flowers to leave their winter retreat; next day it may blow a chill blast, surely borrowed from departed winter. The little brooks, swollen with melting snow and spring rains, sing a gay song as they escape from their icy fetters. There is the music of bird songs as these lovely little creatures look at home sites and discuss future activities, and from the fields come the voices of men at work, the lowing of cattle and the bleat of sheep—all feeling the touch of renewed life and the hopefulness that is the very essence of spring.

But summer seems to present a very symphony of sound—gay, sad, terrible and alluring.

The bird songs alone would make summer a time of enchantment, the clear, decisive, merry tones of the wren, which always surprise you when you see the tiny creature which produces them, the rich, round warble of the oriole, that seems so entirely in keeping with its richly colored coat, the sweet thrilling notes of the song sparrow as he sits on some lofty perch, the liquid sweetness of the goldfinch tones—all these combine in the orchestra which furnishes the music for the summer drama by day.

Night has its own music—more mysterious and intriguing than that of the day.

Your ear catches the familiar deep bass of the bull frogs, the sharp staccato of the cricket, the castanet-like rattle of the tree toad, but there are other players who come in at intervals, that are unfamiliar, but who add their own color to the general effect.

Then there is the mighty overture to the storms, when the bands of the Almighty join in in thunderous chorus.

We hear in the distance the low ruffle of drums, then gradually they grow nearer till with one great burst of thunderous acclaim, the climax is reached—the storm is upon us. And then, sometimes wind-borne, in blasts of terrific force, the rain sweeps over the land. Sometimes it comes like a rain of silver dew, a benediction to the thirsty land, and sometimes it comes as the hard rattle of hail, bringing destruction and desolation.

And all these sounds play the accompaniment to the voices of the men who till the land, who reap now what they have sowed; to the voices of children who work and play, to the busy housewife who sets open every door and window to drink in the melody as she goes from one summer task to another.

And alas! All this beauty of sound is heard on the battle-fields, in the intervals of its awful roar and chaos. It brings thoughts of home to the lads lying wounded and dying, thoughts of the fields and rivers where once they played and worked with no presage of what the future held, thoughts of what the future will hold to those who still have life and hope: hopes for that future which will be pretty much what WE at home will make it or demand that it be made.

Everyday our responsibility towards those now absent from us grows. We cannot escape its challenge nor delegate it—it's up to us, as individuals and as a nation.

We can make their homecoming a marvellous thing if it is accompanied by a national symphony composed of jobs, not just any job but suitable ones, real hospital care, real sympathetic understanding and the will to make these men KNOW they are to get what they've fought for!

DO YOU EXPECT YOUR EYES TO ALWAYS SERVE YOU?

We seldom think of our eyesight until it shows signs of failing. Yet our eyes do grow older, and lose their efficiency. As lengthening evenings bring more reading, sewing and close work, we increase the burden on already over-worked eyes.

Good vision is now more important than ever . . . it's wise to protect your eyesight.

Eyesight preservation begins now . . . have your eyes examined, and know that your eyesight is adequate.

WAR DRAWS CANADA CLOSER TOGETHER

By ANDREW HEBB

When writing last week of Nova Scotian farming practices I did not tell about the lady we saw one evening giving a bath to a litter of young pigs. She and her two daughters had brought out a pan of hot water and some nice clean bath-towels for what she said was a frequent event in her barnyard.

I did not tell of this incident last week lest someone might think it a general practice, but it is now told in answer to Postmaster L. P. Cane. Mr. Cane said to me, teasingly, this week: "Is it true, as a Nova Scotian soldier told me recently, that Nova Scotia is more backward than Ontario?" I ask Mr. Cane if he ever heard of Ontario pigs being bathed, and provided with clean bath-towels?

Mr. Cane thought that perhaps the people of Nova Scotia lacked ambition. I told him that there were two reasons why the Blue-nose province had not increased rapidly in population. One was the reason I gave last week, that Nova Scotia's good farm land is limited, and the other is that our Canadian protective tariffs force trade to travel east and west, tortuously, by rail. The natural highways of Nova Scotia are the sea, and her logical customers are the New England states, the West Indies, Britain, the world.

The Maritime provinces are forced by tariffs to buy within Canada, which means buying from the industrial centre, and, as we all know now, we can sell only to those from whom we buy. But, said our postmaster tormentor, Nova Scotia did not have to come into Confederation? The answer is that the three Maritime provinces were meeting in Charlottetown discussing a Maritime union when delegates from the united province of Canada arrived and asked the Maritimes to consider a larger union.

What was to become Ontario and Quebec needed a third partner to settle their continual quarrels, to break their deadlocks. And so the Maritimes swapped their ocean highways, as it turned out, for the "intercolonial" railway. The inevitable happened. The population and industry of Ontario and Quebec, with their great rich agricultural areas, grew and the Maritimes mattered less and less, except as a nice little market.

Nova Scotians started automobile factories and piano factories but they could not compete with industries situated in the areas of greatest population, in Ontario and Quebec. At the moment I can think of only four Maritime industries retailing manufactured products in a national way, and one of those industries is now owned by Montreal financiers.

Even the Bank of Nova Scotia must have its "general office" in Toronto. Its "head office" is in Halifax and I suppose that that gives the bank's provincial income tax to Nova Scotia. But Ontario gets the provincial income tax of the chief officers of that bank, and Ontario counts the income tax that those chief officers pay into the dominion treasury and cries out that she is the "milch cow" of Confederation. She doesn't want to pay for family allowances for her poor neighbors.

However, I don't think that those of us who live in the country and have time to ponder share this selfish viewpoint of our successive provincial leaders. I think that we have become more nationally-minded as a result of our boys travelling from coast to coast during these last five years.

One thing is lacking in our post-war plans for returning soldiers and youth. We should plan to go on using our railways to enable our young people to see Canada. It costs little more to make full use of our splendid national systems, the Canadian National railways and the Canadian Pacific railway. Our government could give every young man and woman reaching 21 years a coast-to-coast trip, and charge it up to education.

The other night at the Lions club carnival Harry Lambert was kind enough to broadcast that I had returned from the Atlantic coast to sell "hot dogs." Two soldiers standing beside me at the moment saw by my embarrassment that I was the person referred to, and introduced themselves. They were both Nova Scotians. I had been talking to the uncle of one of them a few days previously, a former mayor of Dartmouth. They are stationed at Newmarket camp.

Just as our boys are getting acquainted with the rest of Canada, boys from other provinces are learning to appreciate Ontario. While at Antigonish, for instance, I met Tom Lee of Glace Bay and he asked me to tell his son, Pte. Fred Lee, stationed at Newmarket camp, that all is well at home. Will a camp reader please tell Fred?

Another person I met at Antigonish was W. J. Ruston, son of the late Richard Ruston of Armitage. Mr. Ruston attended Newmarket high school about 1908, practised law at Cupar, Sask., and Regina for ten years, and is now living in retirement in Nova Scotia, at Amherst, I think.

Another person who greeted me as someone from home was a Mrs. Stephens (nee Reeve of Weston), working on the extension staff of St. F. X. university, at Antigonish, to be near her husband, who is stationed at Canso.

Yes, I think we are going to be less provincially minded, and I think Mr. King has his ear to the ground when he says that he would gladly fight an election on the issue of national against provincial rights (plebiscite results in Australia to the contrary notwithstanding!).

TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Newmarket Era and Express: Your editorial, covering the ejection of a heckler from a political meeting in Alberta, clearly indicates that the broad editorial policy formerly adhered to by The Era and Express is to be continued. Free and orderly debate, whether it be in parliament, on public platforms or over the back fences, is the basis of our democratic form of government. Moreover, the individual who takes advantage of this medium of political expression is usually a better citizen than one who hides his political grievances under a bushel. Suppression of honest political opinions is the first symptom of dictatorship or fascism.

Various excuses are advanced by people for neglecting to assume their political responsibilities of which fear is the most prominent; fear of their employers, fear of losing business patronage or fear of neighbors' reactions. A little analysis of these fear complexes shows them to be mostly imaginary.

Despite the fact that we hear of cases of employers intimidating their employees, there is, however, very little concrete evidence to fully substantiate such claims. Of course, we may have a few cases of employees being 'dismissed' for talking politics on the boss' time. However, that is beside the point. In any event, employers who would resort to such despicable tactics would be inclined to single out some spineless fellow who was either ignorant of his civil rights or lacking the courage to assert them.

Fear of losing business patronage is another bogey that has an injurious effect on our political life. Such irrational ideas are restraining capable people from entering public life. Who cares today about the butcher's or baker's politics? Customers are more interested in what kind of pork chops he can whittle off or the texture of his cream puffs.

Likewise, neighbors' political feuds that were so common in the past are fortunately almost passe. Owing to more open-minded policies of the press, radio and other educational facilities, people are becoming more conversant in political affairs. Democracy can only survive on the broadest principles of freedom of thought. Stupid political fears should be dispelled entirely. We must all endeavor to keep politics clean.

TWENTY-THREE LAST WEEK

Despite the heat, extra-mural activities were not neglected at Camp Newmarket during the week of the 7th. The encouragement of group sports have always been one of Col. Young's pet avocations, believing as he does that it's better that a thousand men participate in a game rather than that a thousand men watch a dozen playing. Therefore, a two-evening, all-round unit championship sports meet met with his enthusiastic support.

The idea of the meet was that all contestants were to compete in all events on the card. Each contestant was awarded points on his performance in each event and winners were presented with white sweaters upon which was emblazoned a six-inch 'N', standing for Newmarket and athletic distinction.

One hundred and one men entered the contests. Because it was felt that the members of the district championship track team would probably enjoy an advantage, they were separated into a class by themselves. We'll report upon their activities first. Tpr. Reggie Pownall was declared winner, gaining 46 points out of a possible 80. Reggie high-jumped 5' 7", ran the 100 in 10 and 7/10 seconds and put the 16-pound shot 32' 9", to list just a few of his accomplishments.

Tpr. Stevens, with 33 points, took second place, running the 440 in 55 and 4/10 seconds, beating the district championship time of this year. L.-Cpl. Jamieson won his specialties, the pole vault, shot put and discus throw, amassing 30 points.

Sullivan gathered 27 points, upholding his reputation as half-mile champion, by winning the mile and coming second in the 440. Lambert made a good showing in all events, throwing the discus 99' 6". Evans, the potential paratrooper, lined up with 23½ points.

Non-track team warriors, who were all inexperienced men, performed extraordinarily well. Four men, Hanko, Pierce, Shushack and Sambridge, all cleared eight feet in the pole vault. Hanko threw the discus 82 feet and the 16-pound shot 31 feet.

Carswell astonished the spectators with a scissors-style high jump of 5' 4", while Whittle jumped 5' 2". Urabel won not only the 100 but the 440 and mile as well.

Standings are reported as follows: McCauley, 31 points; Hanko, 27; Urabel, 25; Strang, 24; Mordy, 22; Miller, 18; Pierce, 16; Dyer, 14; Shushack, 14; Vickery, 13.

Needless to say, judging by the above performances, Coach Lieut. Life and Manager S.S.M. Stewart of the Newmarket track team will be signing up some new material.

On the evening of the 8th S.S.M. Bowman gathered his tribe of pig-skin booters around him and did battle with the Slavias on the lower field. Poor old Quittenton, thinking the Flicker's opposition was different than it was, laid a little wager on the opposing team. His perfidy was properly rewarded when the opposition lost by a score of 4-1.

After the game Craig Hamilton presented his Rhythmcade Revue in the drill hall, preceded by a sketch, entitled The Padre's Hour, presented by Cpl. Yeats and Company.

The centre said good-bye to two reinforcement officers, 2nd Lieuts. Durocher and Hamilton, who both made a speech of farewell which seemed to be more a farewell to a favorite resort near camp than to the camp itself.

On the 9th Capts. Sheps and Miller, psychiatrists, paid the camp a business call.

On the afternoon of the 10th the school of instruction presented a demonstration of drill on the parade square, which met with the colonel's approval although the old perfectionist, Freddie White, felt the show could have been better. In the evening, the softball team met No. 3 C.A.C.T.R. on the lower diamond in a play-off game and emerged victorious by a score of 6-0. Moon is to be particularly credited, having played an outstanding game.

On the 11th Major Middlebro and Capt. Evans appeared at camp to officiate at standing courts martial.

During the afternoon of the 12th a picnic was arranged for those who were on pass but had nowhere to go at the Salvation Army camp at Lake Simcoe. Another rousing game of softball was played and everybody reported they had an excellent time.

In the evening the hardball team met Baers at Earlscourt Field in Toronto and went down to defeat by a score of 12-3. However, on Monday evening, the 14th, the team redeemed itself here at camp by again trouncing No. 3 C.A.C.T.R. by a score of 7-1.

During the day the camp was visited by the acting district army examiner, Major Seccombe, and Capt. Robertson, a depot examiner, who did a tour of duty here as a lieutenant some months ago. It was a pleasure to see Robbie again and to note the stride forward he has taken.

Although the heat has been somewhat oppressive, it's nothing to what the boys must have had to endure in Africa. Keeping that thought in mind, everyone has carried on knowing that the better the job here the sooner the boys will be back to enjoy the next heat wave with us.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

Magistrate Woodliffe Has Short Court Session

Three motorists were fined $10 and costs each on charges of illegal possession of liquor in Newmarket magistrate's court on Friday and in each case Magistrate Woodliffe ordered the liquor confiscated. Those found guilty were Ross Trivett, Newmarket, George E. Dalton, Downsview, Ontario, and Lewis Giverty, Wales Ave., Toronto.

"I had occasion to stop Mr. Trivett's car at 11.05 p.m. on Aug. 5," testified Chief Constable James Sloss. "The accused got out of the car and I noticed a bottle of beer in his back pocket. There was no cap on the bottle and part of the contents was gone."

Township Constable J. R. Foote, Whitchurch, told his worship that on July 28 at 10.30 p.m. he searched Mr. Giverty's car, which was parked at Wilcox Lake, and found a partly consumed bottle of wine. He stated that the accused admitted ownership.

Constable George Foster laid the charge against Mr. Dalton. The offence took place in Georgina township. The defendant pleaded guilty and the charge was disposed of before court.

For failing to purchase a $10 license for his refreshment booth, as is required under a by-law of Whitchurch township, George Preston, Gormley, was fined the minimum of $5 including costs. Constable J. R. Foote, who laid the complaint, stated that he had approached the defendant on two occasions at Preston's Lake but the latter refused to comply with the law.

Mr. Preston stated that he had been unable to get supplies to sell in his booth. He had approached the council and offered them $5 for a license, estimating that this was a fair amount considering the small amount of business he was doing. The council refused to consider the proposition, so he offered to pay the $10 but the charge had already been laid against him and the council refused to take the money.

"You do own a booth there and you know that you must obtain a license," commented his worship. "You have no right to decide how much you should pay. That is set by law."

The following traffic charges were laid by Constable Carl Morton: Precision Tool Works, Toronto, fined $15 and costs for exceeding the speed limit in North Gwillimbury.

Charges laid by Constable James A. Leeder, Newmarket: Earl K. Olsen, Aurora, fined $2 and costs for entering a stop street in Newmarket.

Charges laid by Chief Constable Fisher Dunham: George Clifton, Toronto, fined $18 and costs; Rosario Invidiata and Sol Saltzmen, both of Toronto, each fined $15 and costs for exceeding the speed limit through Aurora.

Charges laid by Constable Alex. McCallum: Holmes Maddock and Ruth McCuaig, both of Toronto, each fined $7 and costs for exceeding the speed limit in North Gwillimbury.

Charges laid by County Constable William Hill: Monarch Motors, Toronto, fined $23 and costs; Norman W. Lamport, Toronto, fined $10 and costs, and Alymer A. Phoenix, Islington, fined $5 and costs, for exceeding the speed limit in North Gwillimbury.

William Jolly, Orchard Beach, operator of a summer resort known as "Funland," was remanded for two weeks. Mr. Jolly is charged on three counts; keeping a common gaming-house and two charges of having in his possession slot-machines.

FIVE MORE WINNERS GET THEATRE PASSES

Last week's contest was difficult but the 25 contestants who sent in answers had all the words correct. M. Boyd, Mrs. W. O. Carruthers, Mrs. Mary Godson, Mrs. Orval Smart, 18 Tecumseh St., all of Newmarket, and Marguerite Hare, Holland Landing, had the greatest number of previous correct answers to their credit and so are the winners of the five double passes to the Strand theatre. Contestants with non-winning correct answers have been given credit.

The Lodger, starring Merle Oberon, George Sanders and Laird Cregar, and Two-Man Submarine, with Tom Neal, Ann Savage and J. Carrol Naish, on Tuesday, Aug. 29, or Passage to Marseille, featuring Humphrey Bogart, Claude Rains and Michele Morgan, and Sailor's Holiday, with Arthur Lake, Jane Lawrence and Bob Haymes, on Thursday, Aug. 31, are the choices given for the five winners. They may pick up their passes any evening at the Strand theatre.

The correct answers were: control, blocks, engine, harvesting, spinning, lucrative, interested, inspection, workers and saddle.

THIS WEEK'S CONTEST

Once Upon a Time, starring Cary Grant, Janet Blair and James Gleason, and Girl in the Case, starring Janis Carter, on Tuesday, Sept. 5, or Pin Up Girl, a technicolor musical with Betty Grable and John Harvey, Martha Raye and Joe E. Brown, on Thursday, Sept. 7, are offered to winners of this week's contest.

Contestants are asked to send their entries in on a slip of paper four and a half inches by two and a half inches (4½"x2½"). Only one entry will be accepted from any one household or family and the entry must be in the contestant's own handwriting. Entries must reach The Era and Express office by 9.30 Tuesday morning.

MARIAN GIBNEY IS AUGUST BRIDE

Peach gladioli, rose phlox and ferns provided a pretty wedding background at Mount Albert United church on Saturday, when Marian Evelyn Gibney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Gibney, Holt, became the bride of Donald John Thompson, son of Mr. Fred Thompson, Ajax, and the late Lillian Thompson.

Rev. W. H. Burgess officiated. Mrs. J. O. Little, Newmarket, cousin of the bride, played the wedding music. Miss Freda Thompson, sister of the groom, sang sweetly during the signing of the register, "I'll Walk With You."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in floor-length ivory brocaded satin, styled on princess lines with a sweetheart neckline. Her finger-tip tulle veil fell from a halo of apple blossoms, and she carried a cascade bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and cornflowers.

The maid of honor, Miss Beatrice Gibney, and the bridesmaid, Miss Audrey Gibney, sisters of the bride, wore identical dresses of floor-length white sheer styled on long torso lines with lace yokes. Both wore shoulder-length net veils caught in flowered headdresses and carried bouquets of red roses.

Little Miss Ruth Rutledge, gowned in a long white sheer dress made a pretty flower girl. Floyd Thompson was best man, and Lorne Gibney and Kenneth Shaw were ushers.

The reception was held on the lawn at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother received in a street-length two-piece ensemble of romance blue crepe with white accessories and corsage of peach gladioli petals. Mrs. Thompson assisted in a bolero-styled dress of dusty rose with black accessories and corsage of gladioli petals.

For the wedding trip to Haliburton, the bride travelled in a turquoise blue silk jersey dress and wore the gift of the groom, a sterling silver glamor pin dipped with gold.

VICTORIA GRADS WED IN TORONTO

Emmanuel college chapel was the setting for the wedding of two graduates of Victoria university, when Enid Mary Westcott, only daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Westcott, Flesherton, became the bride of Orville Irwin Ewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Ewart, Newmarket. The bride's father officiated.

J. Stanley Westcott gave his sister in marriage. She wore her mother's wedding gown of beaded ivory crepe and heirloom veil. Her flowers were Johanna Hill roses.

She was attended by her cousin, Miss Eunice Westcott, maid of honor, frocked in rose crepe, and Miss Betty Kerswill, in queen's blue. Both had matching headdresses and carried roses and cornflowers.

Mervyn Ewart was groomsman for his brother and the ushers were Henry Westcott and Byron Steele.

After the reception the couple left on a motor trip and will live in Sutton West.

The bride is a graduate of Aurora high school and resided in Aurora until last year with her parents.

WHITCHURCH REVERTS TO FALL ASSESSMENT

Whitchurch will have two assessments this year. The 1944 assessment was completed early in the year and another one is underway. The second assessment is for 1945, which will bring the township in line with Aurora, Newmarket and other municipalities who favor a late summer or early fall assessment.

Advantages of the change are that Clerk John Crawford will be able to get tax bills out earlier, the roads are good for travel, and the assessor will have a better opportunity of viewing lake properties when the owners are resident. The lake residents will doubtless appreciate meeting the assessor and having the details explained to them.

Another advantage of an early assessment is that taxpayers may get a chance for a tax discount if there is one which is barely possible under the present system. In addition the township receives its taxes earlier.

I had quite a number of English cigarettes on hand but to smoke one of those is like being in a gas chamber.

"Well, everything is going fine down here and I hope that one day soon we Newmarket fellows will be able to invade the old home town again."

"Things look very favorable here," writes Sgmn. W. J. O'Halloran. "This year may see the end. The Hun has felt the might of the Allied war machine."

"This latest carton of smokes doubly enjoyed," writes Tpr. J. R. White. "First in three months, so I made the best of them."

In Memoriam

Goodwin—In fond memory of our dear father and grandfather who departed this life Aug. 24, 1942.

Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.

Ever remembered by his daughter, Gertrude, and the grandsons, Murray, Howard and Elden Sisler, on active service.

Rutledge—In loving memory of a dear daughter and sister, Daisy Eliza, who passed away Aug. 25, 1943.

Upright and just in all her ways,
Faithful and true to the end of her days,
In silence she suffered, in patience she bore
Till God called her home to suffer no more.

Mother, dad, sister and brothers.

WAR AGAINST MOSQUITO

the cost and trouble may become excessive. The chief advantage of oiling is found perhaps in its use on small rain-water pools which may last long enough for the mosquito to develop, and yet are too numerous to drain.

"The purpose of oiling is to destroy the larvae present by covering the surface of the water with a thin film which prevents the breathing tubes of the larvae from reaching the surface, and thus causes suffocation. In addition to suffocation due to a mechanical barrier, death may ensue as a result of the oil entering and physically blocking the breathing tubes, or it may be caused by the toxic properties of the oil.

"Two types of oil may be employed, namely, the toxic and non-toxic. The toxic oil will destroy the larvae in a few minutes, and may then evaporate. A non-toxic oil necessitates a greater period to destroy the larvae. So long as the film remains intact the mosquito is also prevented from depositing her eggs. Kerosene has a high toxicity while fuel or crude oil has a low toxicity and a low cost. Under certain conditions a mixture of these two proves economical.

"Any oil used must be thin enough to spread, and form a film over the entire water surface. A barrel of oil will cover 96,000 square feet of water surface. Usually one oiling a week or every ten days is sufficient to prevent the development of the mosquito."

Illtyd Harris Is Honored, Takes Position At Sault

Mr. and Mrs. Illtyd Harris and son, Trevor, left on Tuesday for Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., where Mr. Harris has accepted the position of supervisor of music in the public schools. There are over 3,500 school children, with ten schools and 85 teachers, in the northern city and Mr. Harris has high hopes for the future in this larger field.

In addition to his work in the schools, Mr. Harris will be choirmaster at St. Andrew's United church, with a Sunday-school of over 500 pupils.

A Welshman by birth, Mr. Harris had considerable musical experience before coming to Canada 15 years ago. Originally intending to enter the ministry of the Church of England, he attended St. John's College in Winnipeg, but the call of music and choir work, which occupied all his spare time, prevailed and he began his musical career in western Canada and British Columbia.

Around ten years ago he came to Aurora as organist and choirmaster at Trinity Anglican church, taking over the then newly created position of director of music at Aurora public and high schools. He was one of those responsible for the formation of the York county musical festival, which rose from humble beginnings to one of the largest and most important festivals of its kind in Canada. His choirs and pupils won many notable triumphs at Aurora, Peel, Stratford, Hamilton and other festivals throughout Ontario. In 1938, Roy Fenwick, director of school music for Ontario, called the Aurora public school choir "the best of its kind in Canada."

Mr. Harris was also for some years supervisor of music at Newmarket high school. For the past seven years he has been choirmaster at Trinity United church, Newmarket. For the past two years he has conducted the Aurora Victory Chorus with over 75 voices for the purpose of raising funds for war charities. His wife has also been prominent in musical circles, especially as a teacher of piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris were honored by Aurora friends on several occasions in recent weeks with handsome presentations and on Friday evening Trinity United church held a farewell get-together at Newmarket. The senior choir presented him with a travelling bag, the junior choir a silver tray, and the congregation with a wallet containing $75 for the purchase of a set of china.

"While I regret leaving Aurora and Newmarket where my relations have been most happy, I feel I am going to a field where there is more opportunity," Mr. Harris said. "I would like to see the York county musical festival started again after the war and alternated between Aurora and Newmarket as is the Peel county festival. It is too valuable a cultural undertaking to lose.

"I hope my old pupils in the Aurora schools will continue to improve in their work and a competent successor will be engaged. I know the parents would miss music as part of the training given. I wish them all and whoever may take on the work every success."

Once a month the choir at St. Andrew's church in the "Soo" broadcasts over the Sault Ste. Marie radio station.

tially, Charlie hopes to lure back to the softball diamond as a starter at least several of those big stars of yesteryear, like Ev. Atkinson (Mrs. Leon. Holman), "Jimmy" Goulding (Mrs. Jack Graham) and Reta Davis (Mrs. Alf. Bolsby), all with experience and still able to show the younger girls the fine points of softball.

There is plenty of good material available and Coach Case expects to arrange games with some of the teams at Newmarket who are giving the fans so many thrills at Newmarket this season. So how about giving Charlie a hand and turning out for practice, gals?

Joe Cherry, the Gormley boy who played great hockey as a juvenile in the bush leagues, missed playing for Aurora when he went to Upper Canada College and then turned in some smart performances for Joe Primeau's prep schoolers, is on active service with the R.C.A.F. and is stationed at Macleod, Alta.

Clair Exelby, chief sachem of the Redmen softballers at Newmarket, has joined Johnny Callanan as a member of the Army Shamrocks in the Beaches senior fastball league and has been playing swell ball to date and getting some timely hits. The army team is heading the Beaches circuit for the present and have a fair chance to win out.

Armored corps softball finds Newmarket at the weekend awaiting a winner at Borden for the three-out-of-five final series. After taking No. 3 C.A.C.T.R. with something to spare in the first game, the Borden boys took a 9-8 seventh inning win to even the series and then lost the rubber match in Newmarket last Thursday 13-5. The other half of the bracket found No. 2, the league leaders, taking the first game and then losing 7-6 to T. and S. Wing in the second game. A third game ended 6-6 with the game called in the seventh, and so a fourth game was carded for Tuesday of this week to a finish.

Newmarket will therefore see plenty of action next week, but will certainly run into much stronger opposition in the final. Over the regular season they failed to beat either No. 2 or T. and S. Wing. However, as you know, anything can happen and generally does when the play-offs start.

Baseball finds the boys in the black berets in the midst of a round-robin series to decide the corps title. Newmarket camp won at home from No. 3, 7-2, D. and M. Track took Orillia camp 16-3, and No. 1 pulled the big surprise by defeating the No. 2 team 10-4. This series was all sudden death so Newmarket, No. 1 and Track are in the final round. Unless Newmarket play better ball than in the Congress league, which proved somewhat of a fizzle, they are likely to find the going tough. The Borden teams are just getting into shape and if they can reach their peak will be tough to beat. Newmarket have the edge in having played together all season.

Herb. Beauchamp of Midland, who is the maestro of baseball there and also district O.A.B.A. convenor, is convinced that No. 23 B.T.C. will seek the Ontario Intermediate B title and is expecting to stack his team against Capt. Jack Morris' boys early in September in a play-off series.

Tommy Rock, the soldier boy who caught for Barrie Collegians in the York-Simcoe league back in "Joe" too.

WILL HOLD TAX SALE

Two parcels of land in arrears of taxes will be sold at a late fall tax sale in Aurora. It is the first time in many years that so little property is in arrears of taxes.

SHAVINGS CATCH FIRE

Firemen were called to extinguish a small blaze which broke out in the basement of Frankcom's garage last week. The basement is used for storage by the Collis Leather Company. Shavings stored there caught fire from a welding outfit. Damage was thought to be light.

W. I. RAISES $17 IN "MILE OF PENNIES" DRIVE

The Aurora Women's Institute raised $17 on Saturday with their annual "mile of pennies" drive in front of the Aurora post office. The amount is somewhat smaller than last year due to so many people being on holidays and the warm weather. The amount raised will be used for charitable purposes.

Bill Chriss, who played some nice hockey last winter for Charlie Downtree at Richmond Hill, besides being a pretty fair sort of softballer, is one of the up-and-coming young soccer players in Toronto. Bill is captain of the Macedonians team which is just about tops among the younger teams and recently won one of the important cup competitions. 1941 and formed a dandy battery with Harry Couse, has been wounded overseas according to casualty reports, but it isn't thought to be serious. Seneca Baker of Whitchurch township, one of the oldest living ex-wardens of the county of York and ex-reeve of Whitchurch township, celebrated his 95th birthday on Wednesday hale and hearty, although not as vigorous as some years ago. A full program will get underway once the club begins its meetings next month.

Bantams Defeat Hill, Tie For Leadership Of League

Aurora bantams vaulted into a first-place tie in the North York hardball league by defeating Richmond Hill 7-6 at the town park on Monday night in a five inning fixture.

Aurora took the lead in the first inning with one run, three runners dying on the sacks as the Hill tightened. The second frame saw the visitors go out in front by two runs as they tallied a trio on two hits, an error and a walk. Aurora got the tying runs in their half as Atkinson walked the first two batters and Ronnie Simmons came through with a hard single.

Both teams were held scoreless in the third, Moore, the visiting third sacker, making a lovely one-handed stab and Gerry Simmons doing a juggling act but holding the ball on a hard catch. With two out in the fourth, the Hill took the lead as Johnny King pegged home instead of first. Previously G. King had dropped a perfect out after Milne and Holman had combined on a perfect pitch-out.

Aurora bats and Atkinson's wildness gave Aurora four in their half, Milne sending over what proved to be the winning run. Ronnie Simmons took the mound for the last inning and yielded two runs, an error paving the way for both. For Aurora Milne yielded two hits and struck out seven in four frames. Simmons gave up two and fanned one.

Ronnie Simmons had a perfect night at bat with three hits, Nesbitt and Milne (2) getting the others. Cliff. Case pulled off a nice running catch. Bennett and Atkinson pitched for the visitors but it was catcher Harry Hill and second sacker Thibert who caught the eyes of the fans with their fine work. The visitors fielded perfectly while the locals had three errors.

PAY TRIBUTE TO DOUG. McKENZIE

Many Aurorans joined in a simple but expressive memorial service for the late Tpr. Douglas McKenzie as part of the regular Sunday morning service at Aurora United church. Tpr. McKenzie was killed in action in France a few weeks ago. The pastor, Rev. Roy Hicks, was in charge. A photo of Tpr. McKenzie stood between two Union Jacks on the communion table.

"We in the church feel that the very least we can do, and we all feel so helpless, is to spend a few minutes together in worship when we pause to pay tribute to him and to others who have paid the supreme sacrifice by laying down their lives for their friends," declared Mr. Hicks.

"We hold in memory today, in this brief memorial service, Douglas McKenzie, a most thoughtful boy, a good soldier, and worthy of our highest, and our empire's highest, tribute. Let us all then, his loved ones, his friends, his nation, his church be worthy of his sacrifice."

Dr. Crawford Rose sang as part of the service, "I Vow to Thee, My Country."

Summer Vacation School Closes With Concert

The Aurora vacation summer school for children, conducted at Trinity Anglican church the past few weeks came to a close last Friday with a gala closing concert.

One hundred and six pupils were enrolled for the classes and 37 had a perfect attendance record. Under the direction of Mrs. J. L. Dinel and Mrs. F. J. Fife, the older boys presented a play, "Joseph and his Brethern." Lantern slides were also shown.

The beginners, trained by Mrs. Robt. Hodgkinson, Mrs. William Waite, Mrs. William Morning and Mrs. William Trent, delighted with a group of songs, as did the older girls, and the primary boys and girls, under the direction of Mrs. George Pattenden, Mrs. N. F. Johnson and Betty Corbett. Barbara MacGirr was pianist.

A display of the work of the handicraft department, under Rev. J. T. Rhodes of Roche's Point, included work boxes, lamps, shoe-racks, lawn ornaments, animals, weaving, scrapbooks, bird-houses, and other interesting items. Paper hats and similar things were made by the wee tots, while comfort bags for the girls of the three armed services were on display by the older girls.

Rev. Canon F. J. Fife, director of the school, welcomed the parents and visitors.

"HAND MILKING" IS ON THE WAY OUT, TOO!

The Modern Milking Machine has won the favor of Dairymen

Freedom from the time-taking, tiring and tiresome chore of hand milking has come to thousands of dairymen through the perfection of the modern milking machine.

The milking machine saves hours of time and labor, making easier and quicker work of a task that has long been considered as "taking a lot of the joy out of life." In these times of help shortage, it has been the milking machine that has enabled many a dairyman to keep the monthly cheques for milk and cream coming in as usual and to benefit from the great demand for dairy products.

To users of milking machines, doing the job by hand is a thing of the past—to them hand-milking belongs to the days when grain was sown broadcast by hand and crops were harvested with the sickle and the cradle.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Gar Preston, once the toast of North York for his fine playing with the championship Newmarket Redmen and last year a member of the hockey team at No. 23 B.T.C., has been honorably discharged from the army because of a bad shoulder after nearly a year's service and shortly will leave for Kirkland Lake where he will be employed with Toburn Mines. Gar is 29, according to his own reckoning, which means he started his junior hockey career with Aurora at the tender age of 14. He still has the hair which won him the sobriquet of "Curly" and also brought those coos from the female rooters.

For three years he tried with the rest of the Aurora boys to trim Newmarket and when Aurora folded up was quickly snared by Andy Davis and company, and along with Don Willson and Mac. Ogilvie and Aub. Marshall, both of whom saw infrequent service, was one of the four district boys who comprised the team which won dominion honors. He went to Kirkland Lake and Sudbury after that and then to the States where he played senior hockey. The injury that has been responsible for his discharge is one that he sustained in that hectic series with Montreal Royals which saw Newmarket emerge bruised and battered but triumphant for the eastern Canada title, in one of the most bruising and punishing junior series ever played.

The boys played that final series against Regina Pats on their nerve and with that will to win which the team possessed in big quantities and was not to be denied. Last winter Preston played good hockey in his 14th year of competition for the camp Redmen but ran into a heavy jolt apd a goal post against Brampton in the final game of the season and the old injury was new again. How he passed A1 in view of it is one of those mysteries. He says that he is through with hockey and intends to settle down permanently up north. Because of housing difficulties he passed up several lucrative offers down south. Gar has kept in touch pretty well with his old team-mates through the years.

Ran Forder is still at Parry Sound and has taken over his father's business according to Gar. Three years ago it will be recalled the fainting phenom played for Gravenhurst. Silver Doran is out of hockey and residing in the States.

Up north are Sparky Vail, Red McArthur and Pep Kelly, the two former in the Porcupine district, the latter at Sudbury. McArthur is married and the father of three or four youngsters now.

How. Peterson is located in Quebec province and still plays a bit of hockey. On active service are Normie Mann, Frank ("Chief") Huggins, both with the Canadian navy, Don. Willson with the R.C.A.F. overseas, Mac. Ogilvie in action oveseas, Aub. Marshall with the dental corps. All with fine service records behind them.

Bill Hancock, coach of the team, is still at Penetang but not in good health. The rest of those connected with the team you all pretty well know about. It will be a good many years before this district has a better team on display.

Earl Clendenning, who back around 15 years ago was one of three brothers playing stand-out baseball for Stouffville, then reigning kings of the York-Simcoe league, is a proud father now, little Miss Clendenning being born at Loon Lake hospital in Saskatchewan where Earl is located with the Royal Canadian Mounties. Earl originally was a school teacher but switched from the classroom to a bigger field of duty. He played third base and the outfield.

Pete Clendenning, who possessed the greatest throwing arm ever seen in the district, is working in the mines at Sudbury, and Murray Clendenning is a garageman at Timmins. Murray played second base and Pete was in right field, three of the best sportsmen you would meet any place. Pete used to be able to stand at the plate on the Stouffville diamond and hit high up on the rink, which was past deep centre field, and vice versa. Many a runner stretching a hit for what looked like a certainty was greatly surprised to find the catcher or baseman waiting with the ball as the fleet Pete pegged him out.

Brother acts were a feature of Stouffville baseball for quite a few years, the battery act of the Lehman brothers, the Dales brothers, Paul and Wes Roadway, Max and Pete Reesor and of course Earl and Harold Cook. Didn't need many outside a few families to make up a team and it resulted in quite a bit of close team play and team spirit. Aurora, with the Learoyds, (Hal and Ev), Bob and Chuck Dales, Cec and Jack Dillane and Newmarket with Doc, Bas and Guy McHale and the Peppiatt brothers, had quite a few brother acts over the years but never in the same quantities or as close together as at Stouffville.

There is one family act in present kid hardball this season with the Simmons kids, Gerry and Ronnie, the pride of baseball impresario Leonard Simmons, performing for Aurora. Both kids look like future greats, especially Ronnie, who, for a bantam, has a couple of nifty curve balls. Perhaps our families aren't as big as they once were or the sexes are more evenly divided but it is quite a sight to see brothers or sisters on the same team together.

Parents are hardly turning out to see their kids play the same as they did in the old days. This is a fair commentary we think all around the circuit in the midget and bantam baseball and it seems too bad that more aren't out to see their hopefuls in action. It gives the youngsters quite a bit of encouragement and also gives the men responsible for giving the boys a chance to learn clean sport some support for their efforts. We got quite a kick the other night at the Aurora ball park as we watched some of the parents make every play on the field their own as they sat on the sidelines, roar words of consolation or praise to the young lads and get that certain gleam in their eye as their hopefuls came through with some fine play. We presume it is the times and many parents, because of war work or being on active service, just can't be present, but we do know of a good many cases where the heads of the family could be present. Why not give Junior a big hand next time he's in action?

Bennett is a name that needs no introduction in softball or pitching circles and another Bennett has come along to take his place on the mound. We refer to 12-year-old Kenny Bennett of Richmond Hill bantams who is a pretty fair pitcher and the son of that grand moundsman of softball fame, Teddy Bennett, who is still pitching for Richmond Hill fastballers. Kenny, if he can learn to pitch baseball as well as dad tossed the big apple, will be a real big leaguer.

Gar Doolittle deserves mention from this corner for his fine playing for the Aurora midgets now out of the running. He is one of the best young ball players ever developed locally and seems assured of a bright future in amateur ball. We wager, if kid baseball had been started three years ago, Gar would be ready for a professional trial, right now. It is getting started in those early years and learning to think baseball automatically that counts, a thing our Canadian boys have been handicapped by for many years. Now things are changing, thanks to the district Lions clubs.

Uniforms, or at least sweaters, are something to work on for next year. There is nothing adds to a team's confidence and hits the opposition harder than a well-dressed team. Right now the kids are playing in all kinds of garb and raiment and it adds a bit of confusion to the spectators and players as well as presenting a non-attractive appearance. We realize you can't have everything the first year, but the funds can be raised and now is the time to think about it. Get the necessary hockey equipment and in the winter get the ball supplies ready for next year. Ordinary clothes for kids are hard to get and tax the already stretched purses of parents. We think the Lions clubs could do worse than stress neatness in dress and get a bit of advertising as well by providing the kids with some sort of uniformity.

Ladies' softball for Aurora is to be a reality in a few weeks. It's a little late to start perhaps, but there is still time for some games and it is a start for another year. We know the C.W.A.C. femmes have been playing a bit, but what about the civvies and the fact the C.W.A.C.'s will soon be spending all their off-duty time at Newmarket camp?

Charlie Case feels that there is plenty of good material on hand and he is calling a practice for girls and women who want to play softball each Tuesday and Thursday night in the Aurora town park. As you read this the first practice will have been held, but you can still make the next one. Pte. Case has plenty of softball savvy and has all the qualities that go to make good leadership. FORMER CEDAR VALLEY BOY IS HERO IN ITALY

Cpl. Peter Andrew, formerly of Cedar Valley, has been mentioned in an official army bulletin for heroism during the attack on the Hitler line in Italy.

Cpl. Andrew was a crew member of a tank which was stopped and set ablaze by enemy anti-tank, machine-gun and artillery fire. Members of the crew climbed out the hatch and took shelter nearby, but when a count was made it was found that the driver was missing.

Risking savage enemy fire, Cpl. Andrew raced across the open ground to the tank, climbed in, and found the driver wounded. He pulled him out, boosted him on to his shoulders and raced with him to safety.

Cpl. Andrew is the son of Mrs. Peter Andrew and the late Mr. Andrew. He enlisted in September, 1939, and went through the campaigns in Sicily and Italy from their start. In Italy he has twice had malaria.

He married an English girl, who came to Toronto with their infant daughter, Gloria Jean, during the blitz. They are living with his mother. Born in Toronto, he was educated in Plains Road public school and was employed by a construction firm in Pickering before he enlisted.

He is a brother of George Watt, Timothy St., Newmarket.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Adair, Aurora, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Armitage.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ballard and Charles of Niagara Falls, N.Y., spent part of last week at the home of Mrs. Ballard's uncle, Mr. Ross Armitage.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hopper and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Woodcock and family of Toronto were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Lundy.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sproule of Toronto are spending two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Grindall. Mrs. Sproule, before her marriage on Aug. 19, was Miss Elieen Brush, niece of Mrs. Grindall.

Mrs. Harold Sanderson and Mrs. Annie Sanderson, Newmarket, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lehman.

Miss Marie Reynolds, Newmarket, spent the weekend at her home.

EVER walk into an auction and find yourself getting excited and wanting to bid . . . a victim of "auction fever"? Wartime conditions can breed "auction fever" if we let them. Everything is in short supply. Many more people are able to bid.

But . . . if prices are bid up . . . all our dollars will lose some of their value. Even necessities could get out of reach.

- What use is more money, if living costs go up still higher.
- What good are higher returns to business, if they are offset by higher costs.
- What does the farmer gain if higher farm prices lead to depression and low prices later.

We cannot continue a full war effort and prepare to meet the problems of the post-war period unless we maintain a stable and reasonable price level now.

DON'T BID AGAINST YOURSELF — BIG IN AND HOLD!

STUDY HOSPITAL CARE PLAN FOR EMPLOYEES

Representatives of the Plan for Hospital Care called at the town office and asked that copies of their literature be distributed to town employees, N. L. Mathews, K.C., town clerk and solicitor, reported to the town council last week.

"The subcription is 50 cents a month for a standard ward, 75 cents for a semi-private ward," said Mr. Mathews. "It is $1 a month for a man and his family including children up to 16 years."

Mr. Mathews said that these rates were for a group of ten or more persons. There were 17 town employees. He thought "it might be a good thing for the town employees."

Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales said that he "wouldn't object to the town paying the $17 a month."

"The objection is that the taxpayers have to pay their own subscriptions," said Reeve F. A. Lundy.

"It is just a form of insurance," said Mr. Mathews.

It was agreed to make inquiries to see if the employees were interested and whether York County hospital would accept persons insured through the Plan for Hospital Care.

YOU KNOW HER

An elderly lady and her kindly husband were making a short railway journey. Upon entering the train she made much ado about the selection of a seat. Having finally decided that, she began to fuss with her valise, placing it first on this side, then on that, and finally in the rack overhead.

"Why do you bother so much, Mary?" ventured her kind-faced companion.

"Don't you see I'm trying to make myself comfortable for the trip?" she replied.

"Yes, dear," replied her husband. "But we are going only a little way, and I'm afraid the trip will be over before you get ready to enjoy it."

POT POURRI

By GOLDEN GLOW

I scarcely got started last week taking you for a ramble round town, so let's see, where shall we go next? I could show you scores of our townsfolks' lovely gardens. The citizens are realizing more and more every year what horticulture can do to our homes and to the community. Even apartment dwellers can, and do, have window-box gardens and what you can grow in that way is amazing.

I have seen some of the most beautiful double petunias ever, grown in just that way, and the delightful Golden Gleam double nasturtiums. If I start on gardens we won't get far, so I'd better change the subject.

Naturally I find it hard to keep away from that subject so uppermost in all our thoughts, the progress of the war, but I promised when war started that I would consider that subject "taboo" and keep my column for the more home-like things I delight to write about, our town, our churches, our trees, our gardens and our feathered friends, the birds, and keep away from the subject of war. However, war has taken on a mighty different aspect this spring and summer and it doesn't hurt so badly to think about what is going on "over there."

No doubt people often wonder in a casual way about the Soldiers' club—there in the Oddfellows' Hall. Well! It is being carried on just as efficiently as ever, and many a chap looks back with pleasure to his sojourns among us just because of it, I hear.

One evening I went over, as I sometimes do, to chat with different ones and to find out if we can improve things in any way by getting the opinion of one here and one there.

One young man very earnestly told me he was delighted when he found he was slated to return here for further training, all because of the Newmarket Soldiers' club.

"And," he added, "I have been in a good many camps but I haven't found one to compare, to my mind, with this. You ladies have done a wonderful thing for us chaps in this club." Naturally, I glowed, and said how pleased I was to hear it and how nice of him to tell me. No doubt the club will still be useful for the boys after the war, if it is still needed.

And did I ever tell you about the solid cement benches with slat seats and backs we have in several places round town? I assure you they have proved a blessing. There are several on Trinity church lawn opposite the post office, beside the drinking fountain and under the maple trees. There's hardly a time I pass that those benches are not occupied.

I always say to myself that some day I'll take time to sit down there and watch people go for their mail or just watch the world go by, but I never have time. I am still a busy housewife with half a hundred other things to occupy all my time. There are more of the same solid, substantial benches at the Lions park and Memorial park and the delightful little park in the triangle beside Fairy Lake on Water St., where the community flag-staff proudly stands.

Walk with me down Main St. and stand at the "bank corner," as we always used to call it, and look over towards the waterworks lawn and the dam. The late Edgar Bogart beautified that corner in the first place and the water and light committee has carried on the good work with the aid of the Horticultural Society.

It is now a picture with the evergreen shrubs and trees making a background for the Haines memorial and to the east of the walk the lawn extends to the bank of the dam—that bank which now is one huge flower border. One year it was Rosy Morn petunias and you never saw anything prettier in your life. Ornamental shrubs have made the waterworks lawn a most attractive spot. You'll miss the old cannon, for I understand it went to help the war effort.

Oh, by the way, a good many people seem to think that the big iron dogs that for so many years guarded the entrance to the Sykes home on Main St. north also went to help in the good cause. It is not so—at any rate, no so far as I know. They are adorning the home and garden of one of the cousins who inherited them under the Sykes will and who had them removed to her home in Toronto when things were settled up.

I left you standing on the bank corner—well, let us turn west and go and see Memorial park and that delightful corner of D'Arcy St. and Church St. Our war memorial gives the name to the little park opposite the Anglican church. It is a lovely spot, with the evergreens and trees now growing up, with Alf. Elphinstone's home beside it, also with its evergreens and trees getting to be a good size.

Mrs. Elphinstone and her two sons keep it in good order and when Alf. comes home at the end of the war he will get a glad surprise to see how beautiful it is!

As you stand there and look past Church St. to the Lions park, extending in one long green sweep right up to Lorne Ave., you say to yourself, "This will take a lot of beating anywhere." But when you stand midway up the park, say near the delightful Timothy St. entrance, and look around from that vantage point, you say, "This can't be equalled anywhere but in a big city—if there!" For the view is superb.

The rear of the houses on Timothy St. show beautiful flower gardens—the park has put cedar hedges instead of fences, so it is all one undivided slope of beauty.

The Anglican rectory, with its green lawns and the church, the beautiful gray stone turreted church, come next into the circle, then Memorial park with the huge willows behind, then beyond and above the trees and buildings on Water St. hill, the high school, the silver-tinted water tower and Pickering College. All a ring of trees till your eye completes the circle and you see the Stuart Scott school at the southwest end of the park.

Nearer again you see all the brave little new trees of the park and the quaint little bridge over the creek, the red stone paths and the lovely willow trees beside the tennis court.

Newmarket, to my mind, is a grand, clean, pretty little town, well worth fighting for and you boys overseas will find it the same splendid little town, only better, on your return, which we hope won't now be much longer delayed.

They are going to try to raise at least $100 as a gift to York County hospital from the Mount Albert Institute. SPORTS...

FROM

WHERE WE SIT

By Del. Gibney

It happened, and on the Stuart Scott school grounds Friday evening. We called it and at the expense of the industrial all-stars.

Marg. VanZant, making her initial appearance on the mound, pitched good ball to keep the Town lassies riding high with a clear sheet, winning over the all-stars by a narrow margin of three runs.

The count was 16-13 and not until the last inning was the issue clear.

The factory girls started the ball rolling in fine style, nipping Marg. VanZant for four hits and counting as many runs.

With a four-run margin, Vera Dingman held the Towners for two innings, clipping each batter off in fine style.

It was not until the third inning that the Town kids found their stride to take the driver's seat, but it was not for long. The all-stars came back in the first half of the fourth, taking advantage of a few errors to round the circuit four times. That put them in the lead.

The Town kids, still stinging from the fumbles, were determined to even the count and in the last half of the fourth touched Marg. Hisey, relieving for Vera Dingman, for six runs, to take the lead.

The all-stars, confident that victory could be theirs, made a last bid in the first half of the fifth and tied the score but were unable to hold the Towners. They allowed three runs in the fifth and two in the sixth and added two for themselves.

It was the best game of the season and carried lots of punch. A four-out-of-seven series is in the offing and those who like the sport should be on hand to see the girls perform.

The factory girls claim that the Towners can be trimmed. So come along and help them do it.

Some fine ball players will develop from this league and it is the hope that a similar league will carry on another year.

New girls playing ball for the first time show promise of carrying the name Newmarket far in the ladies' sport world.
